

DULWICH SLUMP

AFTER last week's exciting 90th minute victory over Tooting, Wycombe Wanderers face another difficult test in the Rothmans Isthmian League tomorrow (Saturday) when they visit Dulwich Hamlet.

Dulwich were one of the early season pacesetters in Division One and by September, were topping the table. But in the last couple of months, things have turned a little sour on the South London club and results have not been going their way.

They lost striker John Baker to Hendon at the start of the season although most of last year's squad stayed at Champion Hill. Former Chelsea regular John Boyle joined the club, but has since taken over the coaching job and is unlikely to play tomorrow, Hugh Wilson was signed from Morton while Fred Pudney rejoined his former club after a spell at Wembley.

Dulwich were unbeaten at Champion Hill in the league for a long time this season but their problems at the moment are illustrated by the fact that they have lost five of their last six home games.

Wycombe will probably field the side that beat Tooting last week with Dylan Evans continuing at inside forward and Tony Horseman in the centre of the front three.
